

Indianapolis Salute to Headline Sprint Races

Ascot Park, 183rd and Vermont in Gardena, will again offer a stirring "Salute to Indianapolis" tonight as the roaring California Racing Association big sprint cars stage their annual 100-lap, eight-race speedfest as a tribute to the Indy "500."

Actually, the race will be a real tribute, since more than half of this year's Indianapolis qualifiers are CRA "graduates," many of them making their way right here on Ascot's tough, half-mile, dirt track.

Included in this list are the Indy pole position winner Parnelli Jones of Torrance in the Agajanian Willard Battery Special; Dempsey Wilson of Lawndale in the Lysle Greenman Special; Roger Ward, the 1959 winner; Jim Rathmann, 1960 winner who started as a Glendale hotrod; Don Davis of Tucson, another CRA ex; Roger McCluskey, another Arizonan who cut his teeth here at Ascot; plus others such as Jim Hurtubise of Lennox, Troy Ruttman, Chuck Stevenson, Chuck Hulse and hosts of others.

On hand for the Ascot 100-lapper will be the likes of veterans Billy Cantrell, the "Old Grey Fox of Anaheim;" Allen (The Hook) Heath of Northridge; 1962 point leader Colby Scroggins of Eagle Rock; 1961 CRA champ, Jack Brunner of Gardena; the Unser boys, Louie and Bobby; colorful newcomer Buzz (Sweet Pea) Rose of Palos Verdes and Arizonans Tiger Gene Brown and Dee Jones of Phoenix.

Certain to be in contention will be Buena Park's high-grooving Bob Hogle, who has already won one Ascot main and always figures to finish in the money.

Hall of Justice Annex Approved

An architectural services agreement for preparation of plans for a new $12,500,000 Hall of Justice annex to house criminal courtrooms was approved Tuesday by the Board of Supervisors despite a vigorous appeal for continuance by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

Supervisor Hahn had asked that the matter be held two weeks to allow the Citizens Advisory Committee on County Construction to conduct an objective study aimed at comparing cost of the annex and the cost of adding 30 new courtrooms to the existing County Court House.

Hahn pointed out that the court house was specifically designed to accommodate two more floors on the east-ly two-thirds of the building.

He quoted a letter dated Aug. 3, 1961, from Architects Stanton and Stockwell, designers of the court house, which said:

"We estimate that this addition (two floors containing 30 courtrooms) could be constructed for approximately $3,185,000."

"There's a big difference between $12.5 million and $3 million," Hahn said. "Let's allow two weeks for study before we make a decision involving millions."

Hahn stressed that adding criminal courtrooms to the County Court House would present no security problem if the huge underground civic center tunnels were utilized to transport prisoners.

"I toured the tunnel connecting the Hall of Justice and Court House Monday," Hahn said. "It takes only three minutes to move between the two buildings in the security-tight tunnel."

"The possibilities of saving $9 million, which, in effect, would reduce the tax rate by nine cents, should at least be thoroughly investigated," Hahn said.

Pen and Quill Restaurant Remodeled and Redecorated

The Pen & Quill restaurant in Manhattan Beach has been refurbished and expanded for the third time at a cost of $34,000, it is announced by Robert Reuben, president of the Pen & Quill Hotel-Restaurant.

The interior and main entrance were revitalized so that the general theme of the restaurant would harmonize both in design and decor with that of the new Pen & Quill hotel, whose construction was completed last month. The dining establishment, built nearly 10 years ago, is adjacent to the new 200-room hotel and connected by a glass-enclosed promenade that bridges the street separating the two buildings.

Extensive redecoration and remodeling, contemporary in design, was planned by Architect Homer Rissman. The new color scheme is pumpkin-orange and black, accented by walls of silk vinyl and gold foil. Project was handled by the R. C. Johnson & Ben Davey construction companies.

Though the interior was completely refurbished, the newspaper theme—inspired by the foreign correspondent background of Reuben, who also was a celebrated war correspondent—was retained throughout the dining areas. Features also include a new cocktail lounge on the second floor, an new air-conditioning system, a free-hanging staircase and deep-carpeting of pumpkin-orange and black to extend the continuity of the color scheme.

A banquet room on the second floor was renovated and named the "Mark Twain Room." It's most unique feature are wall plaques that are blow-ups of actual front pages of foreign newspapers.

The foyer was distinctively re-styled and expanded into an enlarged lobby. Incorporated in the modification is a wall of specially designed clocks. Besides different times in eight world capitals simultaneously, each clock is integrated into a familiar landmark of these foreign cities—a fitting decoration to symbolize the hotel-restaurant's slogan, "Where World Travelers Meet."

Valves for Polaris Machined Locally

The Torrance plant of National Supply Division, Armco Steel Corporation, is machining a number of launching valves for Polaris missiles.

The work is for Westinghouse Electric Corporation, Sunnyvale, Calif., prime Navy contractor for Polaris missile launching and handling equipment.

Westinghouse provides the rough-forged bodies, each with a nickel overlay in its bore. Operations at the National Supply plant include turning, facing and boring, threading, drilling and tapping all holes and grinding.

During development stages of the Polaris program, the National Supply plant also produced a number of the forgings.

Because of the high hardness of the basic material and the areas of nickel overlay, extra special care is required in all the machining operations. Close surveillance of the quality of the work is maintained by both National Supply and Westinghouse personnel.

The Polaris missile, with a range of over 1,500 miles, is designed for underwater and surface launching. It is the nation's first ballistic missile assigned to submarines and is capable of carrying a thermonuclear warhead.

Using compressed air, underwater test launchers have ejected dummy missiles successfully many times from beneath the water off San Clemente Island. Trial firings, using "mock-up" missiles (constructed of redwood because it floats in water) were made in the spring of 1959 from the Westinghouse experimental test installation at the San Francisco naval shipyard.

Challenges of launching the Polaris under various weather conditions and vessel motions, on the surface and under the water, were met by a special team of Westinghouse engineers and scientists. Underwater, the missile must be able to "take off and fly" on short notice.

To achieve this, the Westinghouse Electronic Division, at Baltimore, Md., developed an electronic brain for the Polaris submarines. This device senses the action of the sea and advises the fire control officer of the sea conditions at the instant of

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Do You Operate Under a Fictitious Firm Name?

- 1. Ques. What is a Fictitious Firm Name?
Ans. Any name which does not completely and clearly identify the owner or owners.
- 2. Ques. Why should an individual or partnership doing business under a Fictitious Name file and publish a Certificate?
Ans. 1. The law is specific and mandatory. Business people, like other persons, should obey the law. 2. No Court action of any sort can be maintained until Certificate is filed and published. Such filing and publishing contributes to the value and protection of a trade name.
- 3. Ques. Is the name "J. B. Smith Company" a fictitious name?
Ans. Yes, because the term "company" is ambiguous and suggestive of uncertainty.
- 4. Ques. How can customer find out if he has filed and published his certificate of business?
Ans. Simply by checking with the Corporation department of your county clerk's office, or by telephoning Los Angeles Newspaper Service Bureau, Inc., MA 5-2541.
- 5. Ques. What does Section 2468 of the Civil Code mean by the wording that no person or partnership failing to comply "shall maintain any action upon, or an account of, any contract or contracts made or transaction had," under such fictitious name in any Court of this State?
Ans. Simply that the person or partnership cannot sue.
- 6. Ques. Does that mean that cash stores are not affected?
Ans. There are many grounds for court action besides the mere collection of past due accounts. For instance, a cash grocery may wish to sue a trucking company for damage to shipments.
- 7. Ques. In case one partner is succeeded by another, must a new certificate be filed and published?
Ans. Yes. "Every person transacting business in this state under a fictitious name" must file and publish.
- 8. Ques. In case one partner is succeeded by another, must a new certificate be filed and published?
Ans. Yes. Section 2469 of the Civil Code states that "On every change in the members of a partnership transacting busi-

- ness in this State under a fictitious name ... a new certificate must be filed with the County Clerk and a new publication made."
- 9. Ques. Must a corporation file and publish a certificate?
Ans. Yes, when the corporation as a person owns and operates some other business under a fictitious firm name. In such event it must file and publish, otherwise not.
- 10. Ques. Do public authorities demand compliance with the fictitious firm law?
Ans. Yes. For instance, the California State Department of Vocational Standards will not issue a license to any contractor or contracting partnership who has not filed and published.
- 11. Ques. May a person or person engaged in more than one business under fictitious name meet the publication requirements by filing and printing only one certificate?
Ans. The Los Angeles County Counsel has ruled: "We incline to opinion that the provisions of said section contemplate a certificate be filed and published for EACH fictitious name under which a business is transacted.
- 12. Ques. Does the filing and publication of a Trade Name Certificate have value in establishing owner's title in a firm name?
Ans. Yes, the courts have held such registration and publication to be a prima facie evidence of name ownership where two claimants to a name have contested ownership.
- 13. Ques. How may a Certificate be prepared, filed and published?
Ans. See your lawyer, bank, Torrance Press or the County Clerk.
- 14. Ques. What will it cost?
Ans. The statutory two dollar County Clerk fee for filing, plus the publisher's rate of $15 for four weekly insertions of the advertisement, amounting to a total of $17.
- 15. Ques. Where may filing service be obtained?
Ans. Complete service, forms and printed instructions is given FREE by the Torrance Press.
